I have purchased this brand calendar for about 5-6 years now. They used to be a 12-month calendar, then they went to a 15-month calendar the last 2-3 years. This year (2018) they have gone back to being just a 12-month calendar. I would prefer 15-month, but definitely not a deal breaker for me since I still have the 2017 calendar. The other two posters stated theirs didn't come with stickers - mine did. There is a piece of cardboard in the calendar to keep it from bending during shipment. My stickers were kind of stuck to the cardboard due to static cling. It would have been easy to overlook them. Honestly, I don't find the stickers useful and throw them out anyway. So what keeps me buying this calendar year after year... It is so easy to keep track of activities for each of my 4 kids plus hubs and me. There is also a space at the top of each day to write big things that effect whole household like "birthday" or "Spring Break". My household absolutely functions more smoothly due to this calendar. Each of the kids (ages 14, 13, 11, and 10) know how to check their week and see what they have coming up. I display it in my kitchen and many people comment on the smart design. Many of these "mom planner" style calendars only have 5 spaces. I love that this one has 6 + extra space for family events. Another change from previous editions... all of the past calendars have been subtle colors - muted reds and greens and yellows. 2018 is much brighter almost jewel tones. Also previous editions had same print (ikat, chevron, etc) for each month but each month would have a different color. 2018 every month is exactly same color and same bold print. Not much of print shows so it isn't "too" bold for my decor. I actually have red and black in my kitchen and it will look good. Lastly, I like that the 2018 calendar shows next few months of following year and has an info page as last page. Helpful to write down reminders for next year. Last note... you only have to write names down the side once for the whole year. They've had this same format for last few years. The very first calendar I purchased you had to rewrite every month and was a pain. Can't say enough good things about this format. LOVE!!!

I've bought this calendar for several years - but don't care for this years design at all. I would not put this one up on the wall. I'm hoping the publisher comes out with a more attractive alternative look in a 15 month format soon!

I bought this because I loved the previous 2017 17 month calendar of the same name. This one however does not come with stickers and is truly just a 2018 12 month calendar. Not what I expected. I will be returning.

I got this product and there are no stickers, even though it says "- with stickers!" on the front. Very disappointing. Also, even though this is the newest version of the calendar, it did not maintain the same set-up as the previous year's calendar, which started in August so you could get the entire school year on one calendar. Now I will have to buy a second calendar to cover the next five months. I do like the matte pages, which is why I gave it two stars.
