Integrates theory and practice on multiple levels. Developed from the authors' experiences as practitioners and clinical faculty, Clinical Social Work Practice, 5/e provides students with a method for integrating clinical theories and practice with diverse clients. This student-friendly book addresses assessment within a theoretical framework that considers the use of DSM-V and the mental status exam. Richly diverse case studies, drawn from practice experience, are integrated throughout and show how theory is applied to work with individuals, families, groups, and children and adolescents. To better help students understand the field, the authors' clinical social work is presented authentically, describing both successes as well as their mistakes. Improve mastery and retention with the Enhanced Pearson eText This access code card provides access to the new Enhanced Pearson eText, a rich, interactive learning environment designed to improve student mastery of content. The Enhanced Pearson eText is:

Dr. Joan Granucci Lesser, PhD, LICW is founder and practicing clinician with The Pioneer Valley Professionals a multidisciplinary mental health practice in Holyoke, MA. She is also Adjunct Associate Professor at Smith College School for Social Work where she was formerly on the full time faculty and chair of social work practice. Dr. Lesser is the co-author of Human Behavior and the Social Environment: Theory and Practice as well as a number of book chapters and papers. Dr. Lesser has presented locally, nationally and internationally on a variety of clinical topics, including the treatment of trauma in children, adolescents and the elderly; neurobehavioral disorder such as ADHD and the application of theory to clinical practice with multicultural populations. Dr. Lesser has co-conducted research related to trauma in Kingston, Jamaica and Guangzhou, China. Dr. Lesser was the 2012 NASW Ma Chapter recipient of the award for greatest contribution to social work practice. Dr. Marlene Cooper is Associate Professor at Fordham University Graduate School of Social Service, where she is currently co-chair of the curriculum committee and form chair of the clinical area. She has a private practice for children and families in East Brunswick, NJ. Dr. Cooper has written numerous articles and book chapters on clinical issues and has presented her work locally, nationally and internationally. She and Dr. Lesser shared research projects in Jamaica West Indies and Guanzhou China, where Dr. Cooper also presented on suicide risk assessment. Dr. Cooper will be teaching in Beijing China this summer at China Youth University, as part of a collaboration with Fordham university. She was an invited member at Sun Yat Sen University task force on migrant health policy. Dr. Cooper is former President of NASW NJ and an active committee member.

This e-book, which I recommend to SOWK professors to assign to their students, does a great job laying out the various groupings / "umbrellas" of theoretical frameworks with which a clinical social worker can engage clients. From psychodynamic approaches to self-psychology to all of the BTs (CBT DBT REBT SFBT) to narrative therapy and more ... it's just a great book to have. For future LCSWs, probably a book worth keeping ... which won't happen if you're only buying the e-text. So consider getting it in physical form?

Excellent book, HOWEVER, I DID NOT order an etext, I paid $64 for this book and I am very disappointed that I did not get the BOOK

My only thing is that I ordered the electronic version. I prefer paper in my hand.

This is e-access card only and does not include the text book.

Extremely expensive for what it is, but I needed it for a class then found out I only needed it for 3 chapters.

1) its expensive for an etext book..2) it only gives you access for 180 days!!! thought this was at least an etext I could access for years to come!
