Stephan Van Dam, AIGA is an award-winning cartographer, graphic designer, and information architect. He is the president, principal and creative director of New York-based VanDam Publishing. Twenty-seven of his maps are in the MoMA Collection. The universal power of maps has been his guiding passion for the past 25 years and fuels his desire to tell stories and construct new realities through maps in all media. He's has mapped over 85 world cities, and holds several patents in the field of paper engineering and origami map folding. His work has been honored by the Industrial Design Society of America (IDSA), the American Institute of Graphic Arts (AIGA), the editors of ID magazine and has been featured on national television and been sighted in numerous feature films.

This is NOT a map of Oahu. Rather, it is only a little street map of downtown Honolulu and Waikiki. The remainder of Oahu is treated as an afterthought, with only a few major highways depicted. If you're a tourist and do not intend to leave Downtown and Waikiki, this can be a handy pocket reference. If you are looking for an actual street map of Oahu, you will need to look elsewhere. Since I was looking for an actual street map of Oahu, this product was unsatisfactory. If I were a tourist looking for a pocket street map of Downtown and Waikiki, then I would rate this product much higher than the two stars I have given it.

Too small to see much detail but easy to carry and gives a general guide.

This is a cute little map, easy to carry.

We love these pop-up maps and have them for many cities. The fact that they fit in your pocket is a big plus.
